PREFACE.

THE Plates in this volume, a hundred and twenty-three in number, contain facsimiles of a hundred and thirty-two documents selected from those of which descriptions and transcripts are given in the second volume of Greek Papyri in the British Museum. They are arranged in chronological order, and include ten documents of the Ptolemaic period, ninety-one of the Roman, twenty-seven of the early Byzantine (fourth century), and three of the late Byzantine. Since the first volume of facsimiles contained a large preponderance of Ptolemaic and late Byzantine papyri, the two volumes together furnish a comprehensive representation of Greek writing upon papyrus (chiefly of the non-literary type) from the third century B.C. to the eighth century of the Christian era.

A numerical Table is prefixed to the Plates, to facilitate reference.
